

LIVING DESIGN in the BAROSSA

BAROSSA VISITOR INFORMATION CENTRE & BIKE HUB

Murray St, Tanunda

The vision of local architect Jamie Gladigau has led to the creation of a “village square” in the centre of Tanunda.

A “LITTLE GEM”

The first part of this project was the refurbishment of the Barossa Visitor Centre and the demolition of the old masonry wall along the main street. This not only exposed the attractive and historic stone building, which Jamie describes as a “little gem”, but also opened up the space, making it more inviting for visitors to the Library and Visitor Centre.

The second part of the project was to transform the exterior of the neighbouring CWA hall and give this building a new lease of life. While the interior is untouched, the cream brick façade has been cleverly transformed, visually and practically. It now provides an extended hours Cycle Hub, which is the first of its kind in regional South Australia. The Hub provides a range of services for cycling enthusiasts, including amenities, bike storage and all the essentials for bike maintenance.

COMMUNITY FUNDING

The local community provided funding for a decorative feature wall that creates an inspirational first impression for visitors and encourages them to explore the Barossa. While the new building work is eye-catching, the green and brown tones ensure it blends into the village square and allows the historic stone building to be the hero.

The open space between the Barossa Cycle Hub and Visitor Centre is an appealing recreational space, with a wide, sweeping path designed to draw people in to the community-focussed “village square”.

BAROSSA DESIGN STORIES ARE ALL AROUND US...

“Design is a careful consideration of art and science – the art of stimulating the senses and the science of ensuring your product stands the test of time.”

- Jamie Gladigau

RELATED DESIGNS

- Goat Square (Tanunda)
- Main Street (Angaston)
- Central Park (New York)

FURTHER INFORMATION

- www.artmusicdesignbarossa.org.au
- www.barossa.com/engage/visitor-
- www.barossa.sa.gov.au/sections/council/news/cycle-hub-amenities-now-open